ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST CATHOLIC CHURCH

November 2nd, 2025 | The Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed | Painting by: Luca Giordano

FROM OUR PRIESTS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

All Saints Day and All Souls Day are reminders to us that the Body of Christ includes not only those of us who are alive on earth right now, but also those who have gone before us. They are a good reminder of what the Catechism teaches about the three states of the Church.

> 954 "When the Lord comes in glory, and all his angels with him, death will be no more and all things will be subject to him. But at the present time some of his disciples are pilgrims on earth. Others have died and are being purified, while still others are in glory, contemplating 'in full light, God himself triune and one, exactly as he is"':
>
> All of us, however, in varying degrees and in different ways share in the same charity towards God and our neighbours, and we all sing the one hymn of glory to our God. All, indeed, who are of Christ and who have his Spirit form one Church and in Christ cleave together.
> 955 "So it is that the union of the wayfarers with the brethren who sleep in the peace of Christ is in no way interrupted, but on the contrary, according to the constant faith of the Church, this union is reinforced by an exchange of spiritual goods."

This sharing of spiritual goods especially means intercession; we are strengthened and encouraged by the prayers of the saints and we should remember to pray for the souls in purgatory. Although we are, in some sense, divided for a time, we can still be united in prayer, and our unity with Jesus means that we have union with the entire Body of Christ.

God Bless You,

Fr. Dan

RAISING SAINTS: THE BLESSING OF CATHOLIC EDUCATION

By: John and Leah Canetta

Hello, we're John and Leah Canetta. We are blessed with five children in Catholic education:

- Claudia (16) — Junior, Father Gabriel Richard High School (FGR)
- Ansley (15) — Sophomore, FGR
- Luke (13) — 7th Grade, Huron Valley Catholic School (HVCS)
- Veronica (11) — 6th Grade, HVCS
- Jeremiah (6) — 1st Grade, HVCS

Our family has been part of Catholic schools for eleven years — ever since Claudia began Kindergarten.

WHY CATHOLIC SCHOOL?

We both grew up cradle Catholics — attending Mass on Sundays but never fully entering into the life of the faith that we were called to. Once we were married, we knew we wanted more for ourselves and our family. We wanted our children to not only learn the faith once a week, but to live it daily — in the classroom, at home, with friends, and in every decision they make. We moved to Michigan from Florida for John's work; however, we didn't realize how blessed we would be to be surrounded by a devout Catholic community which was supportive of our values in having Christ be the summit of our lives, not a weekend activity. We decided to provide our kids with the Catholic education we did not experience.

HOW HAS IT IMPACTED OUR FAMILY'S FAITH?

Through Catholic education, our family has gained a better understanding of Jesus' life and how we are called to follow in His footsteps. At school, they reinforced the foundational prayers and virtues our kids learned, such as the Rosary. In addition, they were taught the catechism at a deeper level than we had learned; regular adoration, confession, and praise & worship brought them all closer to Christ.

Through religious education and weekly Mass, they've each developed a personal relationship with Christ and have formed good habits that strengthen their faith. Catholic education has taught our children how to be Christ to others and love in difficult situations.

WHERE DO WE SEE THE FRUIT?

Through the children's formation at Catholic school, we've seen fruit in our everyday lives. Luke now confidently shares his faith with his soccer friends, using what he's learned in religious education to answer their curious questions. Within our household, we see the children helping each other with patience and humility. Ansley aids Luke in his homework and Claudia willingly drives her siblings to their extracurricular activities. Though they're small acts of love, they will shape them into the men and women Christ calls them to be.

THE SACRIFICE

Yes — Catholic education requires sacrifice. Fewer vacations. Fewer extras. But the transformation in our children's hearts is worth far more than anything we could buy. We hope our choices teach them that God comes before temporal material comforts. And that is priceless.

THE MISSION WE SUPPORT

Catholic education — this community — is one of God's greatest gifts to our family. It is leading us closer to Christ and helping our children grow into people who live their faith visibly, joyfully, and courageously.

By supporting Saints and Scholars, you help more students receive not only an excellent education, but the formation to become saints.

NO-SHAVE NOVEMBER

HELP OUR STUDENTS ATTEND SEEK 2026

It's here again, No-Shave November! Join us in supporting our college students as they prepare to attend SEEK, a life-changing conference where thousands of young Catholics encounter Christ in a powerful way. It costs about $700 per student to attend, which is no small amount, especially for a college student. Your generosity helps make this possible. Please also keep our students in your prayers. This experience can be a pivotal moment in their relationship with the Lord, much like it was for Michael last year.

Hello! My name is Michael Parunak. I was blessed to have attended SEEK last year with Campus Ministry. The conference was powerful for my walk with the Lord, as well as a much-needed break from the busyness of life.

I had attended many retreats and conferences in my life before. I wasn't expecting some grand experience of the Holy Spirit, some insightful divine revelation, or anything like that. Actually, I was concerned with making sure that others who came on the retreat with us had a good experience. As the weekend progressed, I began to feel a conviction that God had something for me on this retreat. He began to show me areas of pride in my heart: places where I thought I had 'graduated' from needing Him. He showed me that He always has something for me specifically; however far I progress in holiness, I will always be completely dependent on Him. He showed me the beauty of humility and being seen by Him as I am, not as I want to be.

The conference was also a beautiful opportunity to slow down, take a break from the busyness of life, and be with Jesus. I was starting to feel overwhelmed with work and school. Being able to spend a weekend in prayer with close friends helped remind me Whom my life is for. I left the conference with a renewed sense of joy, love for the Lord, and desire to share that love with others.

I had an amazing time. I know if you asked any of the other students from campus ministry, they would tell you their own unique story of how God worked in their hearts. It was powerful for all of us and helped us fix our gaze on the One who really matters: Jesus.

St. Charles Borromeo

November 4th, 2025

Charles Borromeo was born on October 2, 1538, in Italy. He was the second son of a wealthy and faithful family. According to a law of that time, the family inheritance went to the firstborn son, and younger sons were to serve in the military or Church. Charles, at age twelve, was marked for the priesthood by receiving a tonsure. He later went on to study at the University of Pavia, where he obtained his doctorate in civil and canon law.

Just nineteen days after he received his degree, his maternal uncle, Giovanni Angelo Medici was elected Pope and took the name Pius IV. The Pope named Charles a cardinal on January 30, 1560 and, on account of his interpersonal and organizational skills, he appointed Charles to serve as Secretary of State and Administrator of the Archdiocese of Milan.

In 1562, during the intermittent continuation of the Council of Trent, Charles was appointed to serve in the council as one of its principal directors. The Council, originally called for by Pope Paul III, came about as a way to counteract the effects of Protestant and Calvinist teachings. The goals of the Council were to define Catholic doctrine, restore Christian unity, and issue long-needed reforms within the Church. Its first two sessions were not as successful and had low participation. The third session proved most productive. Coming out of it, Canon 18 required each diocese to establish a seminary to form more priests, with special attention to the less fortunate and poor boys. As a result, Charles would go on to play a major role in the founding of multiple seminaries and was credited with many other accomplishments for his service in the Council.

Though Charles was appointed a cardinal early on, he was not ordained. His request for holy orders was granted on September 4, 1563, finally making him an ordained priest. He was consecrated Bishop a few months later, and served as Archbishop of Milan, but remained in Rome until after the death of Pope Pius IV. He was relieved of his duties as Secretary of State and was allowed to serve as resident Bishop in Milan—the first to do so in eighty years. There he established St. John the Baptist Seminary, and throughout his tenure opened five more seminaries, with more than 800 seminarians in attendance. Charles also spent his time teaching catechism to the laity.

Charles lived a life of devoted charity and rejected luxury. He sold his possessions for the poor and allotted his income to obtain medicine for the sick. During the famine and plague, Charles remained to provide care for those afflicted. He borrowed large sums of money—leaving himself in debt for years, in order to try and feed up to 70,000 people on a daily basis. He devoted his life to the care and service of others, both spiritually, and physically. Charles died at the age of 46 on November 3, 1584. St. Charles Borromeo is the patron of catechists, catechumens, bishops, and those struggling from stomach ailments.
